PROFESSOR WILLIAM ALLISON.

ogden, Utah, Aug. 29.-Prof. William Allison is one of the leading educators of Utah and has done much for the advancement of the Ogden City schools. He was born at Coalville, 1866, and graduated from the State University with high honors, and has taken courses of study at Cornell and Chicago universities. In 1900 Prof. Allison was elected president of theh State Teachers' association, and is now a member of the state board of education, baying been appointed to that position by Gov. Wells. Prof. Allison came to Ogden 1893, when he was appointed principal of the Grant school which position he has held ever since. Under his supervision the schools have made rapid growth until today they are among the leading schools in the State of Utah. Mr. Allison is deserving of much credit and praise for the high standard to which the Ogden City schools have been raised through his efforts and those of his able corps of teachers. Mr. Allison was married to Miss Bessie Dean, of Salt Lake City, one of Utah's most accomplished ladies, 1891.

PROVO SOCIAL NEWS.

The largest affair of the week in a social way was the reception given by Prof. and Mrs. Partridge and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Yates at the beautiful home of the Yates' on First East street Thursday evening. The rooms and grounds were very beautifully decorated. The house with plants and the grounds with palms and streamers of the national colors. Two hundred and fifty guests were present and were entertained with vocal and instru-mental music, dancing and cards. Re-freshments were served in the dining oom and were delicious.

Those assisting in entertaining were Miss Birdie Cluff, Miss Vera Hardy, Miss Hazel Taylor, Mis Effle Howe, Miss Miss Hazel Taylor, Mis Fine Howe, Miss Thethe Hardy, Miss Pearl Taft, Miss
May Alexander. Miss Angeline Holbrook recited a comic piece. Vocal selections were rendered by Miss Clare Egertson Cluff, Mr. Secrist and William D. Roberts. Punch was served from a booth in the yard by little Iva Cluff. Among the guests from out of town were Mrs. J. F. Irvine, of Salt Lake City, Mrs. E. G. Gowans of Mt. Pleasant, Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Pike of St. George, Miss Crosby of Benver, Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Nunn of Colorado.

There are now in England four duchesses of American birth, and there is no end to the American wives of peers who hold less exalted titles. One of the duchesses was selected to be one of the four who should carry the canopy of the queen in Westminister abbey. This honor to the duchess of Marlborough was, of course, intended as an expression of the kindly feeling that the nation, so far as it is interested in such matters at all, feels for the little American duchess, who has so far managed to preside with so much grace over du-

The fourth American duchess is also a dowager. She married the father of the present duke after the death of her husband, Louis Hammersley, who left her a life interest in a large fortune. After her marriage to the duke she lived, of course, in Blenheim palace. When her husband died and the present duke who was a son by his first marriage, came to the title, she was married to Lord William Beresford, who was the Lord William Beresford, who was the racing partner of the late Pierre Lorillard and a popular sportsman in England.
